SCLI 2017 Seminar marks World Biodiversity Day

United Nations World Biodiversity Day, in May every year: Increasing understanding and awareness of the World's Biodiversity.

"Biodiversity is the foundation for life and for the essential services provided by ecosystems. It therefore underpins peoples' livelihoods and sustainable development in all areas of activity, including economic sectors such as agriculture, forestry, fisheries and tourism, among others. By halting biodiversity loss, we are investing in people, their lives and their well-being."

Biodiversity in the Southern Cape is unique, rare and threatened.

Blessed with coastal forests, Fynbos, wetlands and coastal landscapes, the term Eden is appropriately adorned to the region.

The Southern Cape Landowners Initiative (SCLI) is a public platform for landowners and land managers, with an interest in the control and eradication of invasive alien plants.

SCLI recognizes that invasive alien plants, along with inappropriate farming practices, climate change and unbridled development, are all factors contributing to an ever shrinking conservation footprint.

In order to put the conservation of biodiversity in the spotlight, SCLI has chosen Thursday 25 May & Friday 26th May 2017 to host its annual seminar, which falls in the same week as World Biodiversity Day.

Delegates on the SCLI database, who wish to present at the seminar, are welcome to advise the Secretariat.
